I am a Chicago-based freelance Artist that's available for projects as a director, assistant director, producer, production manager or an outside artistic consultant. My main focus is in comedies (physical and dark), and/or campy-horror productions. Specializing in visualizing striking design and stage pictures. My keen eye for details, ability to make audiences laugh, experience with violent/intimate stories, resourcefulness, creative problem solving abilities, and passion for art, makes me an excellent collaborator. I look forward to hearing your production dreams and making them a reality with you.
